Whites and Blacks Fighting in Louisiana.

A Sanguinary Affray Followed by Incendiary Acts.

More Trouble in Mississippi-The Militis Called Out.

Disturbances also Threatened in West Virginia--A Negro Killed -- His Friends Oragnizing

By Telegraph to The Times,

New Orleans, Sept. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] This morning between 2 and 3 o'cleck an excursion train loaded with colored people arrived at Goldsboro from Baton Rouge. A large number of colored people were at the depot waiting for it. As the train neared the depot one of the excursionists, in jumping off, fell. Some unknown person shouted, "Look at the black—" The negro drew a pistol and fired four or five shots in rapid succession, one of which struck a white man named William which struck a white man named William Miller. Then the shooting became general, some 400 or 500 shots being fired inside of fifteen minutes. This account of the affair is given by the police force of Gretna.

A terrible panic ensued, women and children running in all directions, shouting and streaming.

A terrible panic ensued, women and children running in all directions, shouting and screaming.

Ed Levy, (colored), living in Algiers, was shot in the left arm and a colored woman named Fleming was fatally shot.

About 4 o'clock this morning light was seen in the sky between Algiers and Jefferson parishes. The Algier fire department went to the scene and found a large number of men armed with muskets and a negro church on fire. There was no help at hand and the edifice was destroyed.

Several persons were interviewed today and state that when the train was nearing Geldsboro depot it was fired on by men secreted along the line of railroad, and that as soon as the train stopped a general stampede took place. It is very difficult to locate a single person who witnessed the beginning of the shooting outside of the police of Greina.

Rev. Wakins (colored), residing it Goldsboro, was shot while lying in bed at his home, after the general affray by some unknown person, who fired through the window. He was seriously wounded.

Algiers, Freetown, Goldsboro and Gretus are small towns, close together, situated directly across the river, and are virtually suburbs of New Orleans.

Later—To the list of ossualities is added tonight the name of Mary Carroli (colored), who was painfully wounded. The stories of the row and its origin differ very widely. The negroes say that before the arrival of the strain there was a large force of armed, white men in the vicinity of the depot, who paned fire on the colored people while the coursionists were getting off. The white men half a down concerned, and from which place they will go to Shell Mound to aid in suppressing the trouble.

CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—The Pleayune's Greenwood special says: There has been, for the last month, a negro by the name of Cromwell, who has been organizing, as it was thought, an alliance in this part of the delta. On Wednesday of this week a number of negroes belonging to the alliance movement withdrew, as they claimed he was an ex-convict. A majority of the negroes in the alliance voted in favor of Cromwell. The next day Cromwell received a letter ordering him to leave the country. He showed the letter to the negroes, and on the same evening the whites at Shell Mound received a warning letter from parties of negroes, who signed themselves "Three Thousand Armed Men," who said that they proposed to stand by Cromwell, and that if any efforts were made to disturb him they would kill, burn and destroy Shell Mound, and threatening manner last night. The Sheriff received information from Sunnyside, 15 miles above Shell Mound, that there were 500 armed negroes who ware massed in Johnson's field, near there, and help was needed. He wired the Governor about the situation and asked for troops, which was responded to promptly by Gov. Lowry in person, bringing with him five companies of militia.

Gov. Lowry has sent two companies to Sunnyside to report to the Sheriff, who want up there this morning to see if he could do anything with the negroes.

The steamboat running between here and Sharky has just come in, bringing a number of women and children. There have been several reports from the scene of trouble this evening, one of which was that the negroes had left the vicinity of Sunnyside, breaking up in small bands of twenty or thirty, and seemed to be sulky and mad. Negroes Preparing to Make an Attack on the Whites.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Wheeling, W. ated Fress.] A special from Wheeling, W. Vs., says: There is a good deal of anxiety over news of a threatened race war in New River Valley, Fsyette county. Information from the scene of threatened trouble is meager, but is of such a nature as to give rise to fears that a serieus breach of the peace will occur. The trouble had its origin on Friday evening, when a negrownt into the store of Beary, Cooper & Co., at Echo, and brandishing a club threatened to do up the entire force of employés. All efforts to pacify him were futile, and one of the clerks, after receiving, a bad blow from the club, shot the negro, killing him instantly.

of negroes had collected on New River, and that a concerted onslaught on the whites was in contemplation. Orders were also received by Charleston hardware stores for all the Winchester rifes available, and a considerable shipment of these arms was made.

The citizens of Charleston are also gathering arms, and it was apprehended that the milwary would be ordered out. Nothing additional has been heard of up to 10 o'clock last night.

A Free-for-all Shooting Scrape in Colorado.

ROCKY FORD (Colo.), Sept. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] A shooting affray occurred in this place last night between Cattle Inspector Joe Wyatt, United States Marshal Maxwell of Pueblo, John Miller marsnai maxwell of Pueblo, John Miller and others, in which Miller received two wounds, one of which broke his rightleg, the other wound being received in the groin. A ball fired from a Winchester by Miller, A ball fired from a Winchester by Miller, after he had fallen, cut the skin of Wyatt's neck. Ike Freshour, though no way connected with the fight, was seriously wounded in the left shoulder. The Miller boys were all residents of La Junta. An old feud had long existed between them and Inspector Wyatt. The trouble culminated over a suit brought from La Junta before Justice Gobit against George Hali (colored). All parties concerned were arrested by the local authorities, and eight were placed cal authorities, and eight were planted bonds of $1000 each. About 40 sh

The People of Bessemer Talk of Lynching Him-The Highwayman Taken to Jail in Safety.

By Telegraph to The Times.

MARQUETTE (Micb.), Sept. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] Holzhay, the Gogebic Stage-robber, was taken south by the Gogebic Sheriff on the train this afternoon. The prisoner was defant, and his demeanor showed him ready for any desperate deed. It is expected that if he is not vary closely tempt to scape. A great crowd congre-gated at the depot to see the noted bandit. Holzay did not relish their scrutiny, and re-marked to the officer with him: "If I had my gun and was fries they would not be so anxious to get close to me."

To the officers who guarded him last night, Holzhay admitted that he was the man who went through the Milwaukee and Northern train, near Ellis Milwaukee and Northern train, 'near Eliis Junction, last May, and afterward held up the passengers on a Wisconsin Central train, and robbed several stage—coaches in Northern Wisconsin, besides committing many minor depredations.

The man who drove the Gogebic stage last week was brought here today by the Sheriff, and immediately identified Holzhay as the man who did the jeb. The only regret Holzhay expresses in connection with all his oriminal career is that the two officers at Republic effected his capture so easily. He says he was determined not to be taken alive, and had he the slightest inkling of their purpose, when they were approaching him, he would have shot both down unhessitatingly. The proof against the man, without his admissions to the officers, is complete and, unless he escapes from the officials, or succeeds in suiciding, he is booked for a life term in State prison. TALK OF LYNCHING.

BESSEWER (Mich.), Sept. 1.—Sheriff
Foley is expected to arrive from Marquette, Foley is expected to arrive from Marquette, between 1 and 20'clock in the morning with the train-robber Holzhay. The streets and saloons are crowded tonight, and there is much talk of lynching him before the stage which meets the train at North Bessemer reaches the city. The crowd contains many who have been drinking heavily through the day and feel very ugly. No one will go to bed until the prisoner is either affe in the County Jail or else dangling from some convenient bough in the forest.

SAFE IN JAIL.

MARQUETTE (Mich.), Sept. 1.—A dispatch from Bessemer says: The highwayman under escort of Sheriff Foley reached North Bessewer at 12:35 a.m. They took the stage there and proceeding to Bessemer arrived at that place at 1:30 a.m. The robber was safely failed at 1:45 a.m. Very little excitement was manifested.

Brierly, the Paramour of Mrs. Maybrick, Arrives in Boston-He Says He Footed the Bills of Her Trial. By Telegraph to The Times. By Telegraph to The Times.

Niagana Falls, Sept. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] Last Sunday afternoon Carlisle D. Graham made a suessful trip through the whirlpool rapids, the maelstrom and Foster's Flats. That was preparatory to his effort today to pass over the falls, which according to Graham himself and a few eye-witnesses, was accomplished in safety.

The same barrel was used. At 6 o'clock this morning it was towed out into the river by two friends of Graham, and at 6:45 it was let go at a point opposite Chippewa Creek. Down the current it swept, plunging over reefs, often out of sight, till at 7:10 it approached the brink and dropped 200 feet into the abyss below.

The barrel soon rose intact, and was discovered in an eddy. Elmer Sones swam out from the Canadian shore, caugut hold of the rope attached to the barrel and towed it in shore, where, just at 7:25 a.m., Graham was lifted out by Jones and Cahili, and Graham was quickly brought, more dead than alive, to Hore's saloon on this side.

Graham himself says: "The first thing I knew was when some one struck the barrel and said, Graham, are you alive?"

He complained of terrible pains in his back and head from the rocking he had remayed, and conid talk but incoherently.

About a dozen people verify the statement that Graham was in the barrel and many more will say that they saw the barrel go over. approached the brink and dropped 200 feet

How He Fleeced a Kansas City Cat-tile King.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] The Chief of Police wants Bud Guion of Chicago. Mr. Guion is a gambler. He came here a week ago and registered at one of the prominent hotels, giving it out that he was a cattle buyer from New York. Cornellus C. Oniplan is registered at one of the prominent hotels, giving it out that he was a cattle buyer from New York. Cornelius C. Quinlan is one of the most prominent sellers of cattle in the Southwest, with headquarters in this city, was stopping at the same hotel and cultivated the acquaintance of Gulon. Their acquaintance ripened into intimacy. Quion proposed a little game of poker. Quinlan is something of a poker blayer himself. They went to Gulon's room. Among the furniture there was a handsome inlaid table, a present, as Mr. Gulon described it. They was to Gulon's room. Among the furniture there was a handsome inlaid table, a present, as Mr. Gulon described it. They was to gulon's room. Among the furniture there was a handsome inlaid table. The first night Mr. Quiolan lost his ready cash. The next night he went "heeled" with $18,000 in cash. He went away without it. The third night $4000 in cash was won by Mr. Gulon, together with a like amount in promissory notes, his watch and chain, two diamond studes and a ring. The Kansas City man became suspicious, and next morning notified the police that he had been swindled, but Mr. Gulon had field, and now it is alleged that the inlaid table assists him in a marked degree in winning about twenty odd thousand dollars from Quinlan.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S LOVER.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S LOVER.

Brierly Interviewed — He Paid the Cost of the Woman's Defense. Boston, Sept. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] Albert Brierly, the Liverpool mer-chant, who has gained a world-wide notori-ety through his connection with the May-brick murker, was a cable passanger on the brick murder, was a cabin passenger on the Cunard steamship Scythia, which arrived at East Boston this morning. To a reporter he said: "I have no state-ment. When I left England I told all there was to say. I came to America to escape notoriety, and do not want to figure in the daily journals."

He said he heard of Mrs. Maybrick's re-prieve at Queenstown.
"Is it true that you paid the costs of the trial, amounting to £6500?"
"Yes," he answered. "That was the sum." "Yes," he answered. "That was the sum."
"Do you care to say anything regarding your relations with Mrs. Maybrick?"
"Nothing more than I have already said. All I can say is that I have figured more preminently in the case in print than any real connection with it warranted. Besides this I have nothing to say as to where I am going in Boston or after I leave there. I have sothing to say regarding anything, and you will oblige me by bringing your questions to a close."

He then went below, refusing to talk further. After leaving the steamer all trace of him was lost.

A RECEIVER OUSTED.

He Favored the Bondholders and Disregarded Other Interests. CHICAGO, Sept. 1 .- [By the Associated dered a decision in the case of the receivership of the Indianapolis, Decatur and Western Railway. The case has attracted much attention, because the receiver, after his appointment, devoted the surplus earnings to the payment of interest on the first mortgage bonds, leaving labor and supply claims to the amount of $6000 unpaid. It appearing that the receiver had been asked for to maintain the interests of the bondholders to the disadvantage of claims for labor, the order of appointment was set aside. Certain recommendations or suggestions were then made by the Court, and the case was continued, with leave to complainant to amend the bill. The suggestions were not acted upon, and the Court holding that the receiver had been made a defendant for the express purpose of creating jurisdiction, Judge Gresham has now thrown the case out of court.

The decision is a long one, and is formal in character, but interest lies wholly in the result reached and its value as a precedent. ship of the Indianapolis, Decatur and West

A TOWN BURNED.

Only One House Left at Gardiner, Mont.

CINABAR (Mont.), Sept. 1.—|By the Associated Press.] The town of Gardiner, on the edge of the National Park, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday. Only one house was saved out of about 30 in all. Many families lost everything. They slept out of doors last night.

The fire originated in a saloon and the wind was high, completely sweeping the town. All troops and other Government employes in the Yellowstone National Park have been engaged during the last week in fighting fires in the park.

Rousing Meetings Held Yes terday—A Complete Report of Mr. Crafts's Speech at Hazard's Pavilion Last Night - Today's ee meetings in the interest of stablishment of a "Sunday-rest ry of the American Sabbath Union eld in this city yesterday, were, in bint of attendance and attention, a nost decided success.

The first lecture was delivered at he First Presbyterian Church at 9 the First Presbyterian Church at 9 o'clock a.m., when every seat in the edifice was taken. Mr. Crafts's text was: "Remember the Sabbath day, and keep 'it holy." He argued in favor of a Sabbath law from a religious standpoint, and called attention to Sunday desectation in California, referring in particular to Sunday amusements and Sunday excursions. He denounced, in withering terms of censure, the cannonading and mortar explosions held an withering terms of censure, the can-monading and mortar explosions held at Santa Monica on Sunday, and claimed that the devil was let loose. He urged the Christian people to rally to the support of the Sabbath, and be unceasing in their labors until the ob-ject of the meeting—a Sunday-rest w-was achieved. At 8:30 o'clock the Y.M.C.A. Hall. At 3:30 o'clock the 1. M.C.A. Hall, on Fort street, between Second and Third, was filled to its utmost capacity to hear Mr. Crafts's second lecture, the subject of which was the condition of the laboring man, and his right to, at least, one day's rest out of seven. IN THE EVENING.

The third meeting was held at Hazard's Pavilion, and was attended by the largest audience that has been in the Pavilion since the meetings of Moody and Sam Jones. Every seat in the auditorium and balcony was taken, and there were very few vacant ones in the gallery. Mr. Crafts estimated the attendance at 5500, and seemed to be pleased at the interest shown by the people in the "Sunday-rest movement."

mehk."

Excellent music was furnished by the Y.M.C.A. orchestra. The Rev. Mr. Crabbe of the United Presbyterian Church led in prayer, which was followed by a song by a quartette of male voices, after which the audience arose and sung the hymn "America."

Rev. Crafts was then introduced, in a searment sulgristic speech by Dr.

a warm and eulogistic speech by Dr. Thompson, the State secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Following is a verbatim report of Rev. Crafts's address:

Y.M.C.A. Following is a verbatim report of Rev. Crafts's address:

"People of California, I greet you as citizens of one of the three mighties, in extent of territory, of the United States—which three mighties are Texas, California and Montana. We used to sing. Uncle Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm.' California alone is rich enough to give a farm of seven und one-half acres to every family of five in the land. If each man, woman and child, was set in the middle of his or her acre and a half, and the signal was given to sink down into the grass or trush, the whole nation would suddiny disappear. Coming westward I instructed myself as to the comparative size of Eastern and Western States conting up a railroad map. I found

New Jossey, Pemnsylvania, Delaware and Maryland. As the people of Callfornia, like other western people, are so manifestly deficient in local pride, I suggest that this deficiency be corrected in the next generation by setting the children at this map exercise, feeding the little States of the Atlantic shors to this sea monster of the Pacific. "California, no doubt, will some day equal those ten Eastern States in population and wealth, as well as in territory. Your marvelous climate alone would bring the population. On one of the recent August days, a lady in Oakland said to me that she had just made a trip to San Rafael to get warm. You can quickly find refuge from occasional hast at the castide on he with the castide of he water. a trip to San Rafael to get warm. You can quickly find refuge from occasional heat at the seaside or by waiting a few hours, receive the cool sea air at eventide whenever in the State. This is a State in which you need, even in August and in your warmest valleys, an invention with clock attachment, to lay an extra blanket on each sleeper at every stroke of the hour from bedtime fill midnight.

"Surely this State will have no lack

"Surely this State will have no lack of wealth. But it will not rise by bombs. It is about as safe to rise by bombs. It is dangerous to have either of these in your hands when they go off. Raising corner lots is not your best crop. Your soil is rich, not only in precious metals, but in the gold of your peaches, your oranges, your wheat; in the silver of your buckwheat and your olive trees; in the greenbacks of your beactes, your oranges, your wheat; in the silver of your buckwheat and your olive trees; in the greenbacks of your corn and vines. An Easterner is in danger of mistaking your strawberties for red apples, your peaches for cantaloupes, and your pumpkins for fallen planets.

"In the Metropolitan Museum at New York, California is symbolized by a bare and lonely maiden. If I were a sculptorIwould represent her more suitably in variegated marble—in a fountain group, to picture your miracles of irrigation—as a majestic mother, of heroic figure. Not bare, but richly clothed; a diadem of your native gold upon her head, her robe of the royal purple of your grapes, her corsage bouquet a sheaf of your golden wheat surrounded by a great household of sons and daughters.

"But extensive territory, numerous population, and immense wealth do

"But extensive territory, numerous population, and immense wealth do not make a State great—only big, like Russia. Character is essential to greatness in States as well as in individuals. California will never be one of the three greatest States, in the true sense of the word, until she is one of the three best. She must learn to yield not only gold, and grapes, and grain, but also, with equal abundance, honesty, morality and charity. And these can no more be produced without the Sabbath than your fruits without water.

out the Sabbath than your fruits without the Sabbath than your fruits without water.

"California is the only one of our States without a Sunday law. Not New Jersey but California is the foreign land. The only other spot in the civilized world without a Sunday law is France. If you would not be a 'Frenchy,' but an American commonwealth, and would draw for permanent residents the best American families, you must cast out the Frenchy and foster the American Sabbath.

"The American Sabbath Union, which I represent, stands for this American Sabbath—the golden mean between the Puritan Sabbath on the one extreme and the continental Sunday on the other.

"THE AMERICAN SABBATH UNION

"THE AMERICAN SABBATH UNION is a union of true Americans of all bath. By 'true Americans' I mean Americans in spirit. There are real German-American, real Irish-Ameriand its Siamese twie, the foreign holiday Sunday. Apart from all religious considerations, the true patriot should reject the continental Sunday as the 'boilday of despotism.' So Hailam, the great philosopher of history calls it, bidding us note that the depots of Europe have studiously cultivated a love of Sunday pastimes to keep the people quiet under political distresses; that is, the holiday Sunday which is offered to us by Continentals as the very insigms of 'personal liberty,' is rather its substitute, the tinsel bauble which shrewd monarchs have given to the adult infants of the continent in place of the ballot of self-government.

There is no instance of a stable, longcontinued popular government where the people have kept themselves in perpetual infancy by devoting their only day of leisure to Sunday dissipation and its twin, Sunday toil. Who would be surprised to hear tomorrow that France, of the holiday Sunday, had thrown away her republicanism as a spoiled child throws away a toy?
The only ism a man needs to make him defend the American Sabbath is patriotism. Those who make the most frantic protest against any change in the American Constitution are foremost in efforts to overthrow this chief American institution. American institutions are the very roots of the American Constitution, and the Amercan_Sabbath is the very tap root of them all, supplying the people with the stitutions are the very roots of the American Constitution, and the American, Sabbath is the very tap root of them all, supplying the people with the physical, mental and moral vitality necessary to self-government.

"No paper that seeks to uproot the American Sabbath has a right to put the word 'American Sentinel is as surely un-American as the German Sentinel of the liquor traffic, with which it stood in opposition to our Sunday laws at the Sunday rest hearing in Washington, and with which it opposes even the Sunday closing of saloons, except in prohibition towns that close on all days. In the name of a 'Christian church, this Jewish Sentinel of the Saturday-Sabbath echoes the very arguments of Ingersoli's 'Secular Union,' whose representative fought on the same side at that same hearing.

"The revived American spirit should refuse, as the worst of immigrants, the continental Sunday, and hold to the American Sabbath as the very heart of Americanism.

"SUNDAY LAWS ARE NOT RELIGIOUS

LEGISLATION. "The right arm of the American Sabbath Union is the promotion of the religious Sabbath; its left arm the preservation of the civil Sabbath. These two things—the Christian Sab-These two things—the Christian Sabbath on the one hand, and the American Sabbath on the other hand—are as distinct as my two arms, that resemble and coöperate, and yet by no means the same. This distinction is itself an answer to most of the objections to Sunday laws, which rest chiefly on the false assumption that Sunday laws are enforcements of a duty to God, punishments of a sin from the inference from Christ's words: "Render to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and to God the things that are God's," namely, that Christians are thus forbidden by their Master to enforce by civil law that Christians are thus forbidden by their Master to enforce by civil law anything that is a duty to God, or punish by civil law anything that is only a sin against God. It is admitted, however, by our opponents that it is the province of civil law to enforce man's duties to man, and especially to punish crime against man. It is expation, namely, ascrimes against manifit is grand larceny to take away the toiler's weekly rost day. Ceaseless toil is slow murder.

"Sunday laws are not 'religious legislation' because they come from the Ten Commandments any more than the laws against adultery, which are as distinctly a part of Biblical morality, in distinction from heathen morality, as Sunday laws.

"Both the decalogue and codes of ity, as Sunday laws.

"Both the decalogue and codes of the most advanced governments for-bid murder, thefts, adultery, false witness and Sunday work. Religion renders to God the things that are God's by forbidding these things chiafly as sins against God; government renders to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's by forbidding them only as crimes against man. Put, then, into the religious Sabbath as its waterworks, the word 'sin' relating to wrongs done to by forbidding them only as crimes against man. Put, then, into the religious Sabbath as its waterworks, the word 'sin' relating to wrongs done to God, and into the civil Sabbath as its waterworks the word 'crime,' referring to wrongs done to man.

"In other countries, where church and state are mixed, and in our own country in other days, the ground of Sunday laws has been not always clearly perceived; but in recent years legislation on this subject has been based, not on God's will, but on 'the general welfare.' A homely illustration or two will make this point clear. A shrewd Iowa farmer put up in his melon patch this sign: 'Boys, do not touch these melons, for they are green and God sees you.' The church forbids Sunday work and Sunday dissipation because God sees and will punish; but the state forbids them only because they are unhealthy to the body politic, as well as to the individual, physically and morally. A college president, having discovered two sophomores hazing, called them into his presence while his wrath was warm, and said: 'Gentlemen, such conduct is displeasing to God; but the state says of Sabbath desecration: Such conduct is displeasing to God; but the state says of Sunday work: What is more to us, charged with protecting human rights, we won't stand it.' The church says of Sunday work: What is more to us, charged with protecting human rights, we won't stand it—the perpetual treadmill of toil, labor without leisure.

"The most active opponent of Sun'day laws says incessantly, as if it were a self-evident and incontrovertible axiom, 'The State can never properly legislate in relation to anything in the first four commandments of the decalogue.'

"The chief plank in the Seven-day density platfate any the same and the same and "The chief plank in the Seven-day Adventist platform rests on the as-sumption that the first of the two Store Fables related only to man's duties to God and included the first Store Fables related only to man's duties to God and included the first four Commandments.

"This foundation is a sand heap. No one knows where the first table ends, but the period nearest to the middle of the Commandments is after the words, 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.' If the basis of division, as is natural to suppose, was to put the commands that relate chiefly to man's duties to God, on the first table, the point where it must have ended is with that sentence about keeping holy the religious Sabbath. The remainder of the fourth Commandment was given as Moses says to each employer, 'That thy man servant and thy maid servant may rest as well as thou.' That part of the fourth Commandment is as much a civil affair as the succeeding laws about home and property and life and purity and reputation, and so belongs among the Commandments that relate to man's duties to man. The fourth Commandment is the transition Commandment that connects our duties to God with our duties to man very appropriately; so far as one has and, it is a Commandment the ctions to sentinel the American Sabcans."
to man very appropriately; so far as from
"In this sense the Irish immigrant, one has said, it is a Commandment the ernment to legislate about anything in the first four Commandments, admitted the very principle on which we build the civil Sabbath. He said: 'Often the exercise of his religious convictions, under the first four Commandments, he invades the rights of his neighbor, then the civil government says that is unlawful.' Why? Because it is immoral? Not at all; but because it is uncivil, and for that reason

SUNDAY LAWS ARE CONSTITUTIONAL.
"The Supreme Courts of 25 States in which the matter has been tested, have so declared. This is one of the rare instances in which the final derare instances in which the final decisions in first all the highest courts, and all on one side. When 25 Supreme Courts are on one side, on a purely legal matter, namely, the harmony of one legal document called a Sunday law, with another, called the Constitution, he who has only his ipsediction the other side certainly has a very weak case. But the lawyer's chief labor, in most cases, is to prove that the 10 decisious on his client's side weigh more than the dozen decisions on the other side.

"It is well to recall the grounds upon more than the dozen decisions on the other side.

"It is well to recall the grounds upon which these decisions have been based. The objectors always quote the amendment of the United States Constitution, that prohibits Congress to make a law regarding 'an establishment of religion. The word 'establishment' is a historic word of no doubtful interpretation. When it was written into the Constitution there was in the Old World, as there is today, the custom of selecting a single religion or a single sect, and supporting it by the State, which also appoints its officers. A Sunday law in order to come under this prohibition would need to require the support of ministers of religion and their political appointment, which no advocate of Sunday legislation proposes or desires. The theory that the present. Sunday Rest Movement' is only a scheme to unite church and state encounters the difficulty that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Knights of Labor in their international conventions of 1888 approved it, but this difficulty is summarily disposed of by our opponents with the hysterical statement that these, bedies only indorsed our petition because I pleaded with them.

"The fact is that I began my first address to a labor organization, the General Labor Union of New York city."

"The fact is that I began my first address to a labor organization, the General Labor Union of New York city, by reading the action against Sunday, which the Buffalo Labor Union had taken on its own notion; and so my key-note at the Brotherhood Convention was the bitter cry of 450 engineers of the Vanderbilt roads for Sunday rest, written by themselves years before I undertook Sabbath reform, a fact that flaming appeals was the torch at which I lighted the red lantern I have since been swinging in front of Sunday trains.

"When it was asserted that the movement to secure a law of Congress against Sunday work in Government service is really an effort of ecclesiastics to unite church and state I am accustomed to hold up some of the petitions that have been smutted by the hands of the toilers as they have signed them while at their work, as you see in this one from the car shops at Richmond. In old England the barons, as you remember, thought it beneath them to do such hard work as arons, as you remember, though enesath them to do such hard wor a required in education, and so servants do both their rending deed a travel in place of signing his name, laid the inside of his hand in a plate of smut and then stamped its ploture on the document, and then turning his hand, stamped his seal ring into the wax. So originated the term, 'Witness my hand and seal.' So labor replies to those who call the effort to secure the day of rest to the effort to secure the day of rest to the tollers, a church and a state movement, uplifting the smutted petition. 'It is genuine labor reform, this sixday law—the lines of every man's hand being as different from every other man's as his hand writing would have been—witness my hand and have been—witness my hand seal.

seal.'
"I have shown that the reference to 'an establishment of religion' and the first amendment to the Constitution has no application whatever to the American Sabbath; but the latter part of this amendment, which requires that Congress shall make no laws 'prohibting the free exercise of religion,' does have a bearing upon Sunday laws.
When Congress ordered Sunday work in the mail service, it broke this Conin the mail service, it broke this Constitutional provision, for it made it impossible, by this irreligious test, for men devoted to the church and unwillpossible, by this irreligious test, for men devoted to the church and anwilling to give up its services, and conscientious about doing needless Sunday work, to hold positions in this largest department of public service. The most conscientious men, who are best adapted to handle the wealth of the people by mail, are thus distinctly excluded from the postoffices of the country—a very serious interference with the free exercise of religion.' The petition against Sunday mails is, therefore, not a request that Congress will do something for religion, but that it will cease to do something against religion! The present status is not neutrality, but hostility. We do not believe in state and church, but neither do we believe in state against church. Our petition asks Congress to desist from breaking the Constitution.

"But the best answer to the objection that Sunday laws are unconstitutional is the United States Constitution itself, which already contains a Sunday, rest law. The only objection to itself, which already contains a Sunday, rest law. The only objection to itself, which already contains a Sunday, rest law. The only objection to itself, which already contains a Sunday, rest law. The only objection to itself, which already contains a Sunday, rest law. The only objection to itself.

tiself, which already contains a Sunday-rest law. The only objection to it is that it is an un-American monopoly, a law made for the benefit of one man. In the seventh section it is provided that the President shall have ten days (Sunday excepted) in which to consider that the President shall have ten days (Sunday excepted) in which to consider a bill sent to him by Congress before it can become a law without his signature. Here is a distinct provision for the protection of the President in his right to the day of rest and in his rights of conscience. That parenthesis (Sunday excepted) is an acorn which millions of petitioners desire should be millions of petitioners desire should be allowed to grow into the wide-spread-ing oak of a Congressional Sunday-rest law, under whose shadew, with the President, the lowest servants of the Government in the mail and military service may also enjoy the day of rest. "SUNDAY LAWS ARE CONSISTENT WITH LIBERTY. "When Cambyses invaded Egypt, knowing that they worshiped cats, he had each soldier in the front rank of his army take in his left hand, in the his army take in his left hand, in the place of a shield, a sacred cat. The Egyptians dared not strike lest they should kill a god, and so the invaders conquered them without a blow. The first part of that history is repeating itself in our land. We are being invaded by an army of continentals who desire to break down our institutions in the interests of their lusts, and who march in upon us with our sacred word "Liberty," as their shield.

"It is a picture worthy of a comic almanac, these unwashed refugees from despotism, who never saw liberty and wouldn't know it if they saw it.

HONORE SEEING

NORE I marcians. As usual, in such ask these professors of libhard these professors of liberty of his marck; the liberty of one Pedd is of all below him. The reversed to a marcks' who come to this country of lieve in personal liberty; that is, libhard the professor of the rights of all above him. We do not believe in any such 'personal liberty,' but in popular liberty, the liberty of the whole people, and the liberty of the whole people, and the liberty of the whole people, and the liberty is the space within a circle smoothly bounded on all sides by the rights of others.

"The circle is a symbol, not of eternity only, but also of liberty. Personal liberty is the space within a circle smoothly bounded on all sides by the rights of others.

"The principle that underlies all civil laws was well expressed in the card which hung on the steps of a certain city hall: 'Gentlemen will not and others must not loaf on these steps.' Law is the proclamation of what gentlemen will not and others must not deprive the toilers of their natural right to the weekly rest day.

"In many s place it has happened that the barbers have circulated among themselves a signed agreement to close on Sunday, knowing that Sunday work, like swearing, is serving the devil without pay. The same profit is made by the barbers of a town or city when they work six days as when they work seven. One barber refuses to sign, and-so all the others think they must keep up their Sunday work lest some shiftless customer on a cold or rainy Saturday will not come to his usual barber, because he knows that another will be open on Sunday. So the liberty of one man or a few becomes the Sunday slavery of a whole trade. In such a case law comes in, and by closing all the barber shops, proclaims what all sensible barbers will do and the one foolish barber must do, for his own good and the good of others.

"It is sometimes said

Sabbath laws are therefore consistent with liberty in the same way as other less effective laws for the prevention of orime.

"These are our answers to the 'Personal Liberty Leagues' and to those who are victims of their sophistries.

"The case is mere difficult when the cry of 'religious liberty' is raised by an entirely different class, by good citizons who religiously and regularly observe Saturday. The apostate Jew who does not keep Saturday but pleads his neglected religion when arrested for opening his shop on Sunday, should have no consideration from alther Gentiles or genaine Jows. His case is precisely like that of any other heathen, who cares for neither the laws of God not those of man. But those who regularly and religiously observe Saturday by abstalaing from labor and business deserve the kindly and generous treatment they have received, with few exceptions, in the Sunday laws and still more in the customs of the States.

"In the State of Arkansas, at one time, the exception was too hastily repealed. The fact that almost all the instances of alleged persecution of Seventh-day people have been dealt with in other times and places. They are usually permitted to do any work on the first day of the week, except such as would destroy the general rest. They have not always reciprocated this generosity, but rather, in many cases, have adopted the dangerous anarchistic principle of keeping only the laws that suit them; but this should not abate the province of the provinc not always reciprocated this generosity, but rather, in many cases, have adopted the dangerous anarchistic principle of keeping only the laws that suit them; but this should not abate our effort to make our Sunday laws as favorable as possible to the minority.

"They agree with us that man has a natural right to rest one day in seven.
It is only in the exigencies of debate that they ague that a man should do seven days for a week's wages. We go a step further and hold that in this age of corporations and of competition employés cannot be sure in the enjoyment of this natural right to a day of rest and unless the state protects it.
The state must therefore select the day which the majority prefer. The state must therefore select the day which the majority prefer. Louisana for many years had ever-increasing Sunday dissipation and Sunday toil because there was no Sunday law, as the Seventh-day people desire should be the case everywhere. In 1886 the people gave up the Seventh-day Advent plan of the lawless Sunday.

"The Sabbatic Eden of the working-"The Sabbatic Eden of the workingmen can only be protected by the angel of law, as one has said, standing at the gate with flaming sword to keep back the spoiler. The state has nothing to do with the argument for change of day, only with the wish of the majority harmonized to the rights of the minority, but I may turn aside to say that in the Fourth Commandment, to which parties appeal, there is no seventh day of the week but only a seventh day after six of work. This is a great constitutional provision. The Saturday-Sabbath of the Jews and the Lord's day Sabbath of Christians are only by-laws. The Fourth Commandment can be obeyed by keeping either day, but society cannot wisely encourage or protect more than one of them.
"With sweet researcheleness we day, but society cannot wisely encourage or protect more than one of them.

"With sweet reasonableness we should try to show these Seventh-day people the mistake of their literalness with reference to the seventh day of the week. Chaplain Crawford of the United States Navy recently told me of a voyage to Samoa, during which he ship on which he was serving, crossed the Sunday, 180°, and as usual corrected its reckoning by adding a day. If he had been going the other way he would have lost a day. Arriving at Samoa he found that the missionaries in their zeal for Christian work had forgotten to make this change when they crossed the line years before, and so were keeping the Christian Sabbath, the Lord's day, on what was Saturday on shipboard. He preached for them on their Sunday, and they came out on shipboard to hear him again on his Souday; and so for three weeks during which time, between the ship and the shore they had two Christmas days.

two New Year's days and six Sundays.
As the Jews, Seventh-day Advents, Seventh-day Baptists form together but seven-tenths of I per cent, of the population, it might be well to stop the opposition to our Sunday laws by sending the rabbis and pastors of these literalists to Samos by the route that would make their Saturday coincide with our Sunday, as they would surely refuse to throw away any day in their literal devotion to rigid succession, and then they could be celebrating the feast of creation on what they would call the seventh day of the week, on the same general rest day that we should consider a feast both of creation and redemption, and call the first day of the week.
"The proposed Congressional Sunday-rest law, at the utmost, would not affect more than one thousand of these Seventh-day people, as they cannot be in the mail and military service and interstate commerce and yet keep Saturday, and the further jurisdiction of the law is only in the District of Columbia and the Territories, in which very few of them reside.

THERE IS A QUESTION OF CONSCIENCE involved in this matter. It is the rhere is a question of conscience involved in this matter. It is the question of two millions of people, as many as were delivered from King George by the revolution, who are now in a more serious bondage, the Sunday slavery of greed, working on the Sabbath with uneasy conscience. At Yorktown, in the very shadow of the monument that celebrates the close of the revolution, I asked a colored man who was in charge of the adjoining farm, pointing to a hole in the chimney, evidently made by grape or canister: "Was that done in this last war or in the Revolution?" He answered, 'I don't know; how long ago was the Revolution? There was a good deal of resolution in the Revolution, otherwise the barefoot soldier of Valley Forge would never have tred in triumph the fields of Yorktown. Victory came not by such good resolutions as are made on New Year's day and in religious conventions. It was resolution without the 's' that delivered those two millions from King George, and like resolution will deliver the two millions who are in the worse bondage of Sabbathless toil today."

GEN. VANDEVER TALKS. After the conclusion of the address which was liberally applauded, espe-cially that portion relating to the re-striction of the flood of pauper immicially that portion relating to the restriction of the flood of pauper immigration, now pouring in on our shores, the Rev. Dr. Cantine made a brief address, during which he took occasion to inform the audience that the contribution, then being taken up, was not for the benefit of Rev. Crafts, but only to pay the legitimate expenses of rent, light, printing, etc. He concluded by introducing Gen. William Vandever, the Congressman from the Sixth District, who made some eloquent and able remarks, approving the good work of Mr. Crafts, and predicting the early success of the Sunday-rest movement. It is to be regretted that a considerable portion of Mr. Vandever's address could not be heard by the audience, on account of the noise created by some impatient persons in leaving the hall.

The announcement was made by Dr. Thompson that a convention will be held today at the Fort-street M.E. Church, in which all Christian denominations will be represented, for the formation of a Sunday-rest society in this city. The convention will comprise three meetings, the first two to be held at the church named at 9:80 a.m. and 2 p.m., and the third at Hazard's Pavilion at 7:30 p.m. At all of these meetings Mr. Crafts will speak, and at the Pavilion at 7:30 p.m. At all of these meetings Mr. Crafts will speak, and at the Pavilion at 7:30 p.m. At all of these meetings Mr. Crafts will speak, and at the Pavilion at 7:30 p.m. At all of these meetings Mr. Crafts will speak, and at the Pavilion at 7:30 p.m. At all of these meetings Mr. Crafts will speak, and at the prominent labor avocate, will also deliver an address. CANADA has a population of 4,972, -101 and an area of 3,610,257 miles. So far, that looks encouraging, when we think of annexation; but then, our northern neighbor also has a public debt of $284,513,842, which is not so IRRIGATION is conducted on a large scale in Japan, and dates from long before the Christian era. The irrigation works are massive and costly, and from a distance look like double-track railways. These are the large reservoirs and main ditches, beside which mountain streams are utilized in the usual manner.

THE after-effects of the Johnstown catastrophe are still making them-selves apparent. The water in the river there is getting very low; a great deal of pestilence-breeding matter is being exposed, and the stench is becoming unbearable. More bodies are occasionally discovered, and it is believed that there are yet many in the river sand. A committee has been appointed to consider the ways and means of bringing suit against the fishing

THE attention of property-owners, on and near Lake Shore avenue, is called to a communication in this issue, regarding a protest against the grading of that street. This grading, if carried out, will work great hardship, amounting to the practical confiscation of much property belonging to poor people. The Council seems to exercise very little judgment in ordering grading done. These are not boom times, and some effort should be made to make the cost of improvements meet the exigencies of the situation.

THE San Francisco Bulletin does not believe that the valuation put upon the property of that city by the Assessor is justified by the facts, and thinks other cities are following the same Says: "Our property, real and personal, according to the Assessor, increased last year by $32,000,000. To a large number of our artless con-temporaries these are facts of material growth as gratifying as they are dazzling. Perhaps they would be entitled to be so regarded if there was no discount on them. There are two ways of increasing taxes. One is the simple expedient of raising the rates. The other is raising the valuation. The latter appears to be coming generally into vogue, for the tax rate everywhere is mounting perilously high. It is easier to get away with accumulations of the people by raising valuations and making them believe that they are growing richer than by the more direct method. If the various increases reported were on personal property there might be cause for congratulation. There is foom there for a wide expansion, provided it should result in the lessening of the grievous burdens upon the other kind of property."

THE ARID LANDS COMMITTER.

The gentlemen of the Senatorial Committee on Arid Lands, who, are visiting Los Angeles, are evidently hard workers. They let no grass grow under their feet. Yesterday they visited San Pedro and Santa Monica, and drove around the city. At Santa Monica some excellent speeches were made, which will be found reported in our local columns. Senator Stewart's peech is particularly interesting. Senator Stewart, the chairman of the committee and the prime mover in the undertaking, is undoubtedly the right man in the right place. He is tireless, energetic and enthusiastic on a subject of which he so fully realizes the importance, and thoroughly under-stands. Senator Reagan is another hard worker, who is apparently deter-mined to make up for any lack of experience in irrigation matters by assiduous study of the question. It is probable that no Senatorial committee ever worked harder than has this committee since it left Washington.

We trust that the Senators will be favorably impressed with what they have seen of this section, and what they will see today and tomorrow. desire particularly to call the atten-tion of those members of the committee who are not from the Pacific Coast to the necessity of a system of legis lation adapted to this great region With our enormous extent of arid ands, it is preposterous to expect that system of laws adapted to a country where entirely different climatic con ditions prevail, should suit us here. America ns, as a Nation, are not ac customed to the use of water for irrigation purposes. Throughout the East ern and Northern and Southern States they are usually more troubled with a surplus than with a deficiency of moisture. It is only in these arid regions that necessity has compelled the adoption of a system upon which rests the foundation of agriculture in the oldest countries of the world. It is, therefore, specially desirable that these gentlemen, who have seen what can be done here, with the aid of water, how little use much of the laud is without water. should enlighten their congenial colleagues on the importance of the subject to this coast, and, therefore, to the Nation at large.

We of the arid regions are at pres ent a "feeble folk," as far as repre-sentation in the halls of Congress goes, and we, therefore, ask our visit-ors to add their voices to those of our own Representatives, when the latter shall arise to voice our just requests. The necessities of this great western country are the necessities of the Nation at large, for every section in the West, which is fitted for tillage by the aid of water, offers a haven of refuge and the comforts of an independent home to more than a score of eastern families, who are crowded to the wall by the close competition of thickly-settled eastern communities, and, at the same time, it adds greatly to the wealth of the Nation.

THE INTEREST OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT IN IRRIGATION.

One of the most interesting portions of the report of the State Board of Trade to the Arid Lands Committee, reviewed by us in part, recently, is that dealing with the question of the interest which the National Government has in irrigation. This is a question which should be fairly conidered, as when the subject comes up for full discussion in Congress, there will doubtless be legislators who will object to the expenditure of any considerable sums of money for the survey of arid lands for irrigation purposes, on the ground that only a portion of the country would be benefited by such improvement

The answer to this is, that the whole Nation is interested in irrigation, be-cause the whole Nation is interested in making the uninhabitable portion of the country habitable.

It is estimated by Senator Stewart that more than half the area of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, requires irrigation. If the Govern ment can properly expend money to keep water off from lands, it certainly ought to be able, with propriety, to invest a portion of the surplus in putting money upon land that needs it, especially, as in this case, the money would he returned with interest

Our public lands are almost exhausted. Unless more unoccupied lands are made fit for use, we shall ee the classes of landlords and tenants extensively established in this country, as in Europe. Instead of looking for new territory, outside of our present boundaries, why not utilthe empire within these United States, which needs but the fructifying touch of water to become a succession of gardens and orchards, capable of upporting an agricultural population of at least 150 to the square mile? The pressure of population which is felt in other countries will then not trouble us for many generations.

As THE TIMES has frequently stated the project now being investigated by the Senatorial Committee is, when we regard its magnitude and beneficial re ults, the most important one which has ever engaged the attention of a civilized government. To find anything similar, on a large scale, we have to go back to the immense irrigation works constructed in Egypt by the early Pharaohs, who, by this means, turned a burning desert into a densely settled country.

THE ARID LANDS OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

In the interesting report of United States Land Register Patton, published in yesterday's issue, it was very clearly explained how great an interest Southern California has in the Government project for the irrigation of

Mr. Patton shows that there are in this land district no less than 13,156. 000 acres of arid lands, of which at least 4,000,000 can be reclaimed with out extraordinary expense, and the people will cheerfully pay the Government $10,000,000 for these lands. Los Angeles is thus shown to contain more arid land susceptible of irrigation than all the rest of the State. Again: The Government has received from the people of the Los Angeles land district $92,989 for first payment on desert lands, most of which land is still in the hands of the Government, owing to inability on the part of private individuals to meet the heavy expense of brunging water on the land.

expense of bringing water on the land. Our friends up north are fond of calling attention to the asserted fact that their lands do not need irrigation, while ours in the southern part do. While it is very far from the truth that all of our lands require irrigation to produce any variety of crops—except citrus fruits, berries and vegetables vet, as Mr. Patton's report shows, it is a fact that we have an immense area of land—more, in fact, than all the balance of the State-which is worthess without irrigation.

Our people were naturally much sur prised, a couple of weeks ago, to learn rom the California engineer in charge of the work in this State that the southern part of the State could not at present expect to get any of the money to be expended for surveys in California.

In view of the facts that the Los Angeles Land District contains more arid land susceptible of irrigation than all the rest of the State; that this district has paid the Government $92,989 for first payment on desert land, and that the residents of the northern part of the State claim as a specialty of their lands that they do not need irrigation, it does seem a little curious that Southern California should have to take a back seat as soon as there f noney to be expended.

Of course the gentlemen composing the Senatorial Committee are in no ways responsible for any statements that were made some time since as to the disposition of survey funds in this State. They are gathering informa-tion, and it is for that reason that we desire here to specially call their atten tion to the peculiarly great advantages offered by this section for the expendi ture of money in the reclamation of the United States which so much need this kind of work, or which will yield a larger return for a small expendi-ture, than Southern California and

THE Pasadena Union has been aborbed by the Star, the latter having purchased the good will, subscription lists and press franchise of the former, and moved into its office quarters. Mr. Wood, formerly of the Union, retires from the field, and Mr. Vail and associates continue the publication of the Star, which will now have the Pasadena field to itself and be strengthened materially.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY. Reopening Today Under the New

Management.
The reopening today of the Public Library in its new quarters in the City Hall marks the beginning of the City Hall marks the beginning of a fresh era in its existence. Founded originally some is years ago by a few public-spirited citizens who contributed enough in books me moner to give it a fair start, it was a few years later formally turned over to the city, the City Council being made the governing Board of Regents or Directors. From the time of this change the library drooped, the enthusiasm which started drooped, the enthusiasm which starte it died out, the City Fathers had much to do to attend to its wants, and apparently gave but little thought apparently gave but intue thought to the growth and development of the great modern engine of education. The records show that during successive years there was just enough spent on the library to provide a few new books every year and to pay the salaries of a librarian and assistants who could find but little to do.

but little to do.

The adoption of the new charter placed the library under the control of a board of five directors, outside of the members of the Council, and the appointment by the Mayor in March last of gentlemen of public spirit, who had the interests of the city at heart, made an immediate change in the aspect of affairs.

From its former condition of neglect and indifference the library question is becoming one of the prominent features of our changed municipality. The efforts of the new beard of directors have been appreciated by the City Council in a prompt and liberal spirit, and everything has been done with a directory of the economy in giving the Council in a prompt and liberal spirit, and everything has been done with a due regard to economy in giving the library a new start. The Council ordered the fittings of the rooms in the City Hall, and they are on a scale of plain solidity, combined with artistic taste, which reflect credit upon the architect, Mr. Haas. Everything is in white oak, and the effect is light and pleasing. The rooms are spacious, airy and well lighted; the principal room in which the books are contained is 70x50 feet; the general reading room is 75x30 feet, and there are besides two smaller rooms devoted, one to the use of the librarian and the other to the custody of the Patent Office reports and public documents. The latter room is used by the directors for their meetings. The ladies' room will be greatly appreciated for its air of comfort and convenience. It is nicely carpeted, well lighted, and is about 25x80 feet in size. The Council has supplemented its action in providing spacious and elegant quarters by appropriating $10,000 to be spent by the directors in the purchase of necessary books. There are at the present time about 7000 volumes fin the library, of which considerably less than one-half are available for general circulaof which considerably less than one-half are available for general circula-tion. In a short time, however, the new-purchases will have the effect of making the library much more making the library much more effective.

An important feature of the new management will be the circulation, for home use, of numerous copies of the leading magazines, and periodicals. The system of library classification and rules for the circulation of books are all according to the usages prevalent in the best eastern institutions of the kind, and, under the able management of Miss Kelso, the principal librarian, there is every reason to expect the best results.

There is evidently the strongest desire existing on the part of the directors and the librarian to please the public, and every improvement that experience can suggest will be made-public, and every improvement that experience can suggest will be made-as opportunity offers.

The board of directors consists of F. H. Howard, J. Mills Davies, H. Jay Hanchette, E. W. Jones, and G. A. Dobinson, president.

The staff consists of Miss Tessa L. Kelso, librarian; Miss Jessie A. Gavitt, first assistant, and Miss Addie Haase, Miss Estelle Haines and Mrs. Wellman, attendants.

Just accident occurred, no one ap-know, as there were no eye-s. The young man was nomoderate pace, when he pitched for year out of the buggy, and the horse continued on his way. A few seconds afterward some one passing along noticed the man, apparently dead, lying on the street near the curb. Assistance was secured, and the man was taken to Pascoe's Pharmacy, at the corner of Main and Fourth streets, where the natrol wason was talenboard.

corner of Main and Fourth streets, where the patrol wagon was telephoned for, and he was removed to the police station.

Dr. Wing had been sent for, and was on hand when the man was brought in. He was still unconscious, and his pulse was very weak, but he was taken late the back room, and everything possible was done for him. An examination failed to disclose any injuries whatever, the flesh not even being bruised. The front of his clothes were covered with dust, which would indicate that he fell forward on his stomach. His hands were also scratched slightly, and covered with dirt, but there were no injuries to the head. Shortly after the man was brought in, he began vomiting, and opened his signily, and covered with dirt, but there were no injuries to the head. Shortly after the man was brought in, he began vomiting, and opened his eyes once or twice, but there was nothing to indicate that he was conscious of his surroundings, his eyes being insensible to light, and, when spoken to, there was no response.

No one about the station knew the man, but a letter was found in his pocket addressed to Frederick E. Hunter, and postmarked Pasadena, from which it is inferred that that is his name. A bundle of cards of the Troy Laundry and R. C. Cunningham, dentist, were also found in his pockets, together with a small purse containing one or two old coins and a small sum of money. Later some one came in, who, after looking at him, said that he thought the man had formerly been employed in Breakey's hardware store as a clerk, and that he was now driving a wagon for the Troy Laundry.

At a late hour the man had not given any signs of returning consciousness, although his pulse was much stronger and he breathed better than when he was brought in.

A Watch Thief Gives a Detective Chase.

Yesterday morning it was reported at the police station that a man named A. Bellasich had robbed a man on Macy street of a watch and chain. A description of the thief was given the officers and Detective Bowler was detailed on the case. He started out on his search, and found Bellasich at No. 22 Search, and street, where he was try-ing to have the works of the watch transferred from one case to another. Bowler went to place his man under ar-rest, when he broke away and ran-down Main street, with the officer in own Main street, will the other in pursuit. After an exciting chase he was overhauled at the corner of Requena street and brought to the police sta-tion, where he was locked up. His case will come up for examination today.

The Council Today. The City Council will meet this morning at 10 o'clock, when the bond election returns will probably be canvassed. Maj. enormous crowd dispersed in an orderly manner.

It is estimated that 15,000 persons took part in the demonstration at Hyde Park. During the progress of the meeting Burns and others passed through the crowd and took up a collection for the strikers. Money was received in hats and open parasols, and a large sum was obtained. An American gentleman who was present gave a handsome donation.

In an interview Burns said the Strike Committee had decided not to have a parade tomorrow. They propose to devote the day to real work, especially to improving the methods of collecting funds.

DISTURBING GIRLS.

They Call for Help and Have the Disturber Arrested. Last night at midnight Officer Conley was called upon by Fred Hans-comb to arrest P. S. McGinnis, and the latter was marched up to the lice station, where a charge of disturbing the peace was booked against him. He deposited $25 bail and went home. The complaint was made by Miss The complaint was made by Miss A. H. Rosenberg and Miss May Walsh, who live at No. 220 South Main street. They heard a knock at their door at 11 o'clock, and Miss Walsh went into a closet, while Miss Rosenberg inquired, "Who's there?" She parleyed with the men, and they would not be contented without coming into the room. Miss Walsh came out from her temporary hiding-place, and the remarks of Miss Walsh came out from her temporary hiding-place, and the remarks of the callers were such that they created alarm in the hearts of the timorous girls. The girls finally called upon Mr. Hanscomb, who lives in the house, to go for an officer, and the arrest followed. Afterward the girls went to the police station and tried to have the charge dismissed, but that was out of the question, and it remains to be seen whether they will prosecute or not. The Weather

Monica—Interesting Speech-making—Deriven Over the City and Dined at the California Club.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the Senate Committee on Arid Lands, consisting of Senators Stewart and Reagan, together with its associates and attachés, the committee of the Chamber of Commerce and a large party of citizens, took train for San Pedro, to view the route and inspect the harbor. The party embraced the following persons: Senator Stewart of Nevada, chairman, and Senator Reagan of Toxas, member of the committee, Maj. J. W. Powell, Chief of the U. S. Geological Survey; Col. Richard J. Hinton, assistant; Eugene Davis, sergeant-at-arms; R. S. Boswelt, stengerapher; C. J. Kappler, private secretary to Senator Stewart, P. G. Powell, Hon. W. W. Morrow, M. C. San Francisco: Hon. John J. Hemphill; M.C., South Carolina; J. M. Davies, secretary State Board of Trade, Hon. S. M. Whotte, Maj. E. W. Jones, president Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; M. B. Higgins, secretary banks, privated and Dr. McFarland of San Diego; Chi. H. B. Maxon, deputy in morning the Senator Stewards, and Dr. McFarland of San Diego; Chi. H. B. surprise and admiration at what they had already seen in Los Angeles county.

Arrived at San Pedro, the party was met by Capt. Banning, Merrick Reynolds and other citizens and immediately taken aboard the steamer Falcon for a turn around the harbor. The Senators took a lively interest in the Government work, Mr. Stewart asking many pertinent questions and all examining the harbor map, which was explained by Gen. Brierly.

Returning to the wharf after a half hour's run of the steamer, the party took the train, returned to the Wolfskill depot, and immediately afterward started for Santa Monica, accompanied by the Chamber of Commerce committee and other citizens. There the Senatorial party first called upon Mrs. Senator Jones, and later had luncheon at the Arcadia as the guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

"And the country needs all this land for the use of its people. See what a rush there has been to Oklahoma, a country of rich soil, but situated in a semi-arid belt, where irrigation would prove very efficacious in bringing out the best results. The Dakotas, which are also settling up rapidly, need water. They have an artesian belt, but how long this supply will hold out no one can say."

Senator Reagan responded to a request from Mr. Shorb, who served as chairman, by making a few remarks to the following effect: "The trip which we have made and the investigations which we have held in the various Western States and Territories have been a source of much pleasure and satisfaction to me. I have learned a great deal which was before unknown to me, and which. I believe, is still unknown to the average Congressman. I did not know before that Montana and Idaho could be made to receive millions of population; that in many places the erection of reservoirs at the bases of mountains would uttimately prepare the country below for hives of industrial population such as have never been seen upon the American continent. Congress has at last taken these matters into serious consideration. When the work designed is done the way will be prepared for individuals or States or corporations to utilize the lands which lie ready for improvement. Latest Gleanings and Gossip from Down by the Sea. SANTA MONICA, Sept. 1.—[Corre spondence of THE TIMES.] The Sab-bath morn was ushered in with clear sky and a calm sea, the contrast to the showery, gloomy hours of the previous day being delightful. The warm weather up town had the effect of bringing down the usual army of merrymakers, and the beach was lined loungers/on the sands.

made any arrangements therefor, and as his pyrotechnics were dampened it was impossible to give a display.

The North Beach bath-house was also closed up, having been attached at a late hour on Saturday night by Morgan for $200. He was determined that the visitors from Los Angeles should be debarred of one of the attractions of Santa Monica, for although cash bonds of $450 and securities to the amount of $4000 were offered, they were refused. The citizens here are much wroth at this proceeding, inasmuch as it hurt the town, owing to the lack of bathing accommodations on the beach, for although the Arcadia bathrooms were filled to overflowing, all could not be supplied.

The visit of the Senatorial Committee and the Committee of Reception attracted a throng to the Arcadia during the early afternoon hours, and a good many of the the town people crowded into the dining-room to hear the speeches during the lunch hour. The visitors took in the sights of the beach, and several of them were seen sporting in the surf and evidently enjoying themselves.

There is every prospect that the school muddle, now so much occupying the attention of every taxpayer, will be brought to a flual issue at the close of this week. Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Conger, Thorns and Wotkyns, the Citizens' Committee, called on County Superintendent Seamans, who stated that he was not prepared to act until he had been given legal advice on the subject. However, he authorized the committee to make a canvass of the district to obtain the popular sentiment as to whether Messrs. Holder, Buchanan and Spalding were the choice of the patrons of the school district. It is already known that this Board of Trustees is favorable to Prof. Herbert Pinckney, and what disposition will be made of Prof. W. S. Monroe no one can conjecture. Both gentlemen are placed in an unfortunate predicament. Mr. Pinckney was exactly in Mr. Monroe's position when he was called to the principalwhen he was called to the principal-ship of these schools. After he arrived when he was called to the principal-ship of these schools. After he arrived he-found, atter becoming acquainted, a new man by the name of Foshay, who was ready to step into his shoes. It was a dual appointment, but there was only one position to be filled, so the lat-ter was forced to look elsewhere. This school fight has not only been a bitter one, but many untoid personalities have sprung into it. A great deal of political trickery is said to be at the bottom of it, and hints are made that several soreheads concocted the whole scheme of proclaiming the districts disjointed. However, the people have determined to wade into the muddle in earnest, and before the schools open harmony will be brought out of chaos. GLEANINGS ABOUT TOWN.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

A Rank Injustice. Los Angeles, Sept. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times.] I would call the attention of property-owners on and in the vicinity of Lake Shore avenue to the fact that tomorrow (Monday) marks the limit in which any protest can be made against the proposed grading of said street.

Appended are some of the reasons why any one should object to the grad-

The writer is informed that 'all persons owning property having a front-age on street's included in a district bounded by lines parallel to Lake Shore avenue and 300 feet distant from the same will be assessed for the grading of said street at the same rate as Lake Shore property-owners. For particulars reference is made to Ordinance No.

reference is made to Ordinance No. 297.

Now, many of these people in the 300foot limit have already met heavy assessments on their own streets and are totally unprepared to meet this additional expense, as in many cases their property had to be mortgaged to meet their own street assessment.

The very fact that advantage is taken on this assessment act proves that the bill will be a heavy one, in many cases exceeding half the assessed value of Lake Shore property.

Any one at all acquainted with the topography of this section knows that an immense amount of filling in is to be done, hence the expense will be great.

Now, if the expense is too great for Lake Shore people to meet, why should not the city help them out?

Of course, the present course is in

Of course, the present course is in accordance with the State law, but it is not is accordance with the moral accordance with the State law, but it is not is accordance with the moral law.

A man has a legal right to do many things that are perfectly wrong accordingly to moral law.

Morally, the city has no right to assess people for grading of streets that are other than their own, and in many cases instead of paying bills they should be paid damages.

Any parties interested and desiring to protest saginat the grading should leave their names at the Times office by September 2d, at moon, also stating their number of feet frontage, as the petition now being circulated must have the names of a majority of the property-owners in the said district, to make it effective.

A large number of property-owners are out of the city and know nothing of this movement, hence may have to sell the property to meet the expense. I am told that the present grade, in all probability, would not have been established but for the fact that so many lots were vacant and the owners absent and unconsulted.

To illustrate the blessed results of a To illustrate the blessed results of a wife's subserviency a story is told of the great reward that came to the wife of an ill-tempered, diseased and wicked Brahmin, who served her husband with a slavish obedience, and even went the length of carrying him on her own shoulders to visit his mistress. The British Government in India, says the Woman's Journal of Boston, has bound itself not to interfere with the religion of the natives, but it certainly ought not to inculcate in Government schools the worst doctrines of heathenism.

Says an anti-negro correspondent, writing from the South: "No citizen stands higher here than the northern man who neither holds an office nor desires to do so." There is truth in this. Let a northern man go South, abandon his politics and his birthright as an American citizen, devote himself as an American citizen, devote himself to money-making while using his capital for southern benefit, ignore politics or side with the infamous politics prevailing there, and in the outward estimation of the whites he will "standhigh." Inwardly they will regard him with contempt and scorn; and no man, on the face of God's earth is more worthy of scorn and contempt than the Northerner who in the South bows his head to the fetich of infernal prejudice and goes about "damning the nigger."

LOVE AT CATALINA.

THE ISLAND COMMUNITY IN A STATE OF MIND.

ole Romance-Love Laugh at Jewfish - Bombarded with Rice-Avalon Shaken by a Hyneneal Earthquake.

AVALON (Santa Catalina Island), Sept. 1.—[Special Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Saturday evening, among the large crowd that came over from Los Angeles for the ball at the Metropole, were two persons that attracted some attention from the lookers-on. Anyone with half an eye could see that they were sweethearts. "Eyes looked love to eyes that spoke again." The young lady had a timid, far away look, while the young man, a tall, stout, sunburnt fellow, had a look of determination, that could not be mistaken. It meant something, but what could not be determined by the score or more of hawk-eyed editors and reporters of the Weekly Jewfish, who hang about the Metropole in search of facts, ancient and modern, who hang about the Metropole in search of facts, ancient and modern, relating to the fish. Mr. Meyer, the genial and popular clerk, could not be deceived, and was about to send the young man up to the bridal chamber, when the young man registered as J. Burch, and also in a shaky, tremulous hand added Minnie Burch, and floored Mr. Meyer with the statement that he wished two rooms, one for his sister and one for himself.

In the morning Mr. Burch came down bright and early, and asked Mr. Meyer if he wanted to take a sail, but Mr. M. did not. Mr. Sumner was importuned, and others in such a curious way that excitement was soon at fever pitch. Finally it was discovered that Mr. Burch and Miss Burch were not relatives, but were a runaway couple from the wilds of the mainland bound to marry or die. So Mr. B. had chartered the steam yacht Wanda, a 25-tonner, and was trying to obtain witnesses, to the marriage ceremony that was to take place out to sea. Finally Capt. Ned Whiteman, a jolly sallor, better known as the Marquis of Barracouta, and a friend were secured, and the wedding party set sail. The entire known as the Marquis of Barracouta, and a friend were secured, and the wedding party set sail. The entire town had now heard of it, and when it became known that Capt. Remington, the matramonial editor of the Weekly Jewish was for the first time Weekly Jewish was for the first time going to exercise his perogative, every body turned out. Mr. Burch had no license, but a very long head. So he was going to take advantage of the law that allowed skippers or masters of vesels to marry people on the high seas, and as Capt. Ned Whiteman of the White Wings had often performed the ceremony, he was taken to see that everything went shipshape, and give Capt. Remington a point if necessary. The Wanda went out under a big head of steam, and as she went by La Paloma Capt. Hancock Banning, who had caught on, saluted by lowering the fligs and his new pennant of the San Francisco Yacht Club, fired three guns and played the "Wedding March" on the cornet, of which he is a master. On the horizon was the black smoke of the Hermosa coming from Los Angeles, and the report was circulated that the enraged parents were on board. In enraged parents were on board. In any event, the Wanda showed her heels, and was soon hull down in the Santa Catalina channel. The bride was rosy and beautiful, as bridee always are; but, as the Wanda struck the ground-well, the hortible thought arc; but, as the Wanda struck the ground-scall, the horrible thoughs came over the mind of the Marquis of Barracouta, Suppose she is sick! The Marquis was a true reader. The blush of the fair bride melted into pearl, with a suspicion of green; in short, she was sick—not sick of Mr. Burch—but simply seasick; not too sick, but sick enough. When out the number of miles that made it legal Capt. Remington handed the wheel to the blushing engineer, told the interested parties to stand up, and here, on the blue Pacific, amid a shoal of darting flying fishes, with only the murmur of escaping steam, Mr. Frank Baxter of Coolwater and Miss Minnie Armstrong of Newport, Los Angeles county, were made man and wife, spliced, as Capt. Remington said, with a clove hitch, but the captain, Ned, swore that it was a double clove. Be this as it may, they were married as completely and a fast at 15 40 wints. swore that it was a gouble clove. Be this as it may, they were married as completely and as fast as if 40 minis-ters had been in attendance, and took their bridal tour on one of the trim-mest little crafts in Los Angeles mest little crafts in Los Angeles county.

The Wanda steamed back under a still greater head of steam. Again La Paloma dipped her flags, again the cannons roared, this time loaded with rice kept for such occasions by Capt. Hancock Banning. The dock in front of the Metropole was black with people; three mighty jewfish hung in the gallows, and a hush came over all Nature as the Wanda touched the dock; then the bride was handed out, and as a shower of rice fell on her and down the smokestack of the yacht, a cheer was raised that might have been heard by the bride's parents down at Newport, and they were escorted up the wharf by crowds, who appeared as delighted as they did. A man might live a lifetime in Salt Lake and not have so much ceremony about his nuptials, and probably Mr. Baxter will bear us out in this.

The romance ended in the departure and probably Mr. Baxter will bear us out in this.

The romance ended in the departure of the Hermosa. The happy couple going to the home of the groom at Coolwater, a few miles from Compton, where he has a farm of 80 acres and everything in shipshape condition.

Mr. Baxter, it seems, has for some months been in the employ of the father of the bride, who possibly had other views for his daughter, but the two fell in love and matured the plan which resulted in the wedding on the high seas today.

two fell in love and matured the plan which resulted in the wedding on the high seas today.

The young lady, it is understood, made an excuse to go on a visit to some friends in Ventura. Mr. Baxter also had some business in the North, so the two met in Los Angeles, and fearing discovery if they took out a license, took the steamer to Catalina, hoping the captain would marry them; but he would not, so Capt, Remington tied the knot, as related. Mr. Baxter is a fine, manly-looking fellow, and has a charming wife. The inhabitants of Catalina wish them much happiness, and venture the prediction that the old folks will relent and find that the match is a happy one.

The happy couple go to Los Angeles tonight, and will be "at home" at the Baxter ranch at Coolwater today, and as the family are yet uninformed, this letter will possibly give them the first information that their loss has been Mr. Baxter's gain. OCCASIONAL.

United States Man-of-war Charles

The crew, led by an officer, mutinled when off San Pedro, threatened to disable the ship and murder the officers. The ringleader was shot and several wounded. One of the crew stated that the cause of the trouble was a desire on the part of the crew to see Colton's Furniture Exchange, 202 South Spring street, and only death would prevent them.

FRESH LITERATURE.

Lippincott's for September opens with a wonderfully-stirring story from the pen of Edgar Fawcett, entitled "Solarion." It is a story of evolution of strange marvels, wrought through the skill of the alchemist. It is the history of experiments, through which, by means of electricity and various chemical forces, the brain of the brute became humanized, and was taught to reason, while the tongue learned the mystery of speech. It is also a story reason, while the tongue learned the mystery of speech. It is also a story of love and romance, as well as of punishment for the man, who had dared to overstep Nature's laws, and, through the occult mysteries of science, impart to a brute form a human soul. He had heard the voice of a "wrathful, yet tolerant, Deity" saying: "Thus far shalt thou go and ne farther. And if so far thou goest, beware of thine own rashness in tampering with my works. Let their unknowableness remain in their own native sanctity. Forbear or reap the bitter result," and this experimenter did not heed the voice. He pushed to the fartherest possible bounds his experiments, he evolved a marvelous combination of the animal and the human, and through his very success his love was wrecked and his life made desolate. "Solarion" is a strong story, one of Fawcett's best, with as much of strange interest centering about it as is found in that of Pygmalion and Galatea.

"George W. Childs's Recollections" are continued in this number, the "Australian Ballot System" is discussed, and the usual variety of literature is presented. (J. B. Lippincott Co., Philadelphia.)

EVENTS OF NOTE IN THE WORLD'S HISTORY

Sherman's Entrance Into Atlanta-John Howard-The Princess de Lamballe - Lady Hervey - The Great London Fire.

Sherman's army entered Atlanta as victors September 2, 1864. The cam-paign had lasted from May 6th until Sep-tember 2d. In its ten pitched battles and numerous skirmishes, it had cost the Federal army 30,000 men and the Confederates 40,000. The march had been a constant skirmish. Said Sherman, a constant skirmish. Said Sherman, in describing it: "I have not seen 10.000 of the enemy in one view, yet by advancing my lines 100 yards I could at any time draw on the fire of 100 guns and 50,000 muskets." Sherman's movement to the rear of the city in August had caused Hood to send Hardee to oppose him. The Federal troops had, however, cut him off and defeated him at Jonesboro, and though Hardee escaped capture, Hood's army was sundered, and he was forced to evacuate Atlanta, which sherman made haste to occupy. JOHN HOWARD, the illustrious philanthropist, was born of mercantile stock near London Sep-tember 2, 1728. Embarking for Lisbon in 1756 to assist in relieving the sufferings caused there by the great earthquake, he was captured by a French privateer, and the ill usage he earthquake, he was captured by a French privateer, and the ill usage he then received is said to have induced him to devote his life to the amelioration of the sufferings of prisoners. He became Sheriff of the county of Bedford in 1778, visited most of the county jails of England, and in 1774 induced the House of Commons to inaugurate a system of prison reform. The remainder of his life was devoted to visiting prisons and hospitals throughout Europe. Howard died in 1790 of fever at Cherson, on the Black Sea. Burke said of him in a speech in the House of Commons: "He has visited Europe, not to survey the sumptuousness of palsecs, or the stateliness of temples; not to make accurate measurements of the remains of ancient grandeur, nor to ferm a scale of the curiosities of modern art; not to collect medals or collate manuscripts, but to dive in the depths of dungeons, to plunge into the infections of hospitals, to survey the mansions of hospitals, to survey the mansions of hospitals, to survey the mansions of sorrow and pain; to take the gauge and dimensions of misery, depression and contempt, to remember the fergotten visit the forsaken, and compare and collate the distresses of all men in all countries. It was a voque of discovery, a circumnavigation of charity."

THE PRINCESS DE LAMBALLS.
In the terrible days of Septema 1792, the mob of Paris demanded 1792, the mob of Paris demanded the death of all the nobility and the imprisonment of their wives and daughters. At 10 o'clock of the morning of the 2d of September, the assassins had not entirely quitted La Force, where the Princess de Lamballe was imprisoned, and from which her women had been taken away the previous day, saved by unknown hands. She had kept up with difficulty when they dragged her before the tribunal. "Are you acquainted with the plots of the palace?" Hebert, who presided, asked her. "I know nothing of any plot." "Swear to love liberty and equality; awear to hats the King, the Queen and royalty." A voice said in her ear: "Swear to love liberty and equality; awear to hats the King, the Queen and royalty." A voice said in her ear: "Swear or you are dead." The Princess did not turn; she did not change color. "I will willingly take the first eath," said she; "I cannot take the second; it is not in my heart." "Liberate Madame!" pronounced the President. It was the sentence of death. Struck by a blow from a saber at the street door, Mme. de Lamballe still kept up for several steps, supported by two men. Again wounded, she sank down to rise no more. The assassins fell furiously upon her corpse. The bleeding head was carried in triumph under the windows of the Temple. The wretch who brandished this hideous trophy dared to boast of his crime in the army of the Rhine. The grenadiers of the regiment in which he was enrolled killed him with their sabers.

THE GREAT LONDON FIRE.

London was only a few months freed from a desolating postilence; it was suffering with the country generally under a most imprudent and ill-conducted war with Holland, when on the evening of the 2d of September, 1666, a fire commenced by which about two-thirds of it were burned down, including the cathedral, the Royal Exchange, about 100 churches and a yast number of other public buildings. The conflagration commenced in the house of a baker named Farryner, at Pudding Lane, near the Tower, and, being favored by a high wind, it continued for three nights and days, spreading gradually eastward till it ended at a spot called Pye Corner, in Giltspur street. The terrified inhabitants were scattered about the region for miles, some of them under tents and some under huts and hovels, many without a rag or any necessary utensils, bed or board. Finally it was thought that nothing could stop the further progress of the conflagration but the blowing up of as many houses as would make a wider gap than had yet been crossed by the flames. But this the avaricious aldermen would not permit. By September 7th, 200,000 people of all ranks and degrees dispersed and lying along by their heaps of what they could save from the fire were deploring their loss and ready to perish from hunger and destitution. at the police station that a man named George Weise was acting queerly on Main street, and that he was either drunk or crazy. Officer Vignes was sent out with the patrol wagon, and Weise was brought to the police station, where he was booked for medical treatment, and locked up. Early yesterday morning Weise appeared to be much worse, and threw all of his clothes out of the cell, but after some persuasion on the part of Jailer Clayton, he was induced to dress himself, at least sufficiently to make a decent appearance. The police think that he is insane, and he will be kept in the prison long enough to settle that fact, and if there is no improvement he will be sent to the County Jail for examination by a regular medical board.

Late last night I. Citron came to the police station looking for Weise, who, he said, was a cousin of his wife, and had only been in the city about 10 days, having come from Odessa, Russia. Weise, he said, had been living with him at his house, on Brant street, since he had been in the city, and for several days had been acting in a peculiar manner. He seemed to be afraid of everyone, and was always talking about people being after him. Saturday evening, about 8 o'clock, Mr. Citron said that his brother met Weise at the corner of Temple and Spring streets, and tried to induce him to go home, but he refused, saying that his relatives did not want him. His brother told him that he was mistaken, but he refused, saying that his relatives did not want him, since which time he had not seen him, and, becoming uneasy, he had called at the station. Mr. Citron was allowed to talk with Weise, but it was not considered safe to release him, and he spent the night at the station. safe to release him, and he spent the night at the station.

BOARD OF EDUCATION. An Important Meeting to be Held

This Evening. The regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held in its rooms at the new City Hall this evening, and from present indications the session promises to be an interesting one. Among other matters to be considered will probably be that of the insurance of the buildings, of which Mr. Cox, as chairman of the Finance Committee, has at present a monopoly. One or two of the members of the board are of the opinion that, as the buildings are scattered all over the city, and most of them isolated, it would be cheaper for the city to carry its own insurance, as, even if a building burned down every three or four years, the difference between the premiums and the cost of the structure would result in a saving to the city. They think that any exceptionally fine building should be covered by insurance, but are opposed to carrying insurance on all the buildings. Others, however, while they favor carrying insurance, are opposed to any one member controlling the whole business. Bids for the construction of a retaining wall for the Temple—atreet school will also be opened. promises to be an interesting one

AMATEURS FIGHT. A Couple of Greenhorns Fight Fort

During the past few days it has been whispered around that two local pugilists had "blood in their eyes" and that it would soon be brought to a focus, as a challenge had been issued for a fight to a finish. They met at 2:30 p. m. Sundays and the contractions of the contraction o day in the southwestern suburbs of the city with the necessary paraphernalia, seconds, bottleholders, timekeeper and referee, and a few of the friends of the opposing "pugs." Time was called at 3 o'clock sharp.

These sluggers do business on South Spring street. One is employed in a hay and feed store and the other at a fruit store.

It would be difficult to describe their fight round by round, as the pugilists wildly sawed the air in the vain effort to keep from getting one landed on the nose. The first five rounds were passed of blows.

fight round by round, as the pugilists wildly sawed the air in the vain effort to keep from getting one landed on the nose. The first five rounds were passed with about even exchange of blows, but in the sixth the hay man struck the fruit man a swinging right on the "fruit's" left ear, giving first blood for "hay." "Hay" had the best of it for the first fifteen rounds, and at this point the referee gave out that the fight would not last twenty rounds and wanted to get a bet to that effect, but no one responded, and the fight went on. From the twentieth round "fruit" seemed to gain courage, having been successful in forcing "hay" to the ropes, and for the next seven or eight rounds "fruit" bid fair to become the "cock of the walk." "Hay" having received a few stingers in the eye, adopted the dodging racket which took "fruit" entirely off his pins, and from this time on "hay" breathed easier and gained confidence in himself. "Fruit" made rush after rush, but "hay" was not there. At this stage of the fight friends wanted to compromise, each slugger taking half of the purse. "Hay" was unwilling, but finally it was decided to fight an even forty rounds provided neither man was knocked out. This was agreed upon and from the 35th round "hay" tried to force the fighting, but wind and strength were wanting. When time was called in the 40th round both men seemed relieved, and glad that their reputation was still good, although both have a more healthy respect for one another than they did. Neither was in a humor to talk of another fight, and no suggestion from either side could spur them on to make any suggestion whatsoever lest the other might take offense, and once more it would be necessary to rescrt to the "manly art."

A MARVEL OF PURITY.

"ROYAL" A PERFECT BAKING POWDER-ABSOLUTELY FREE FROM LIME AND ALUM.

The Royal Baking Powder is considered by all chemists and food analysts to be a marvel of purity, strength, and wholesomeness. Furthermore, it is now the only baking powder before the public free from both lime and alum and absolutely pure.

This exclusive purity is due largely to the improved method by the use of which it has been made possible to produce a perfectly pure cream of tartar, from which all the lime, etc., has been eliminated.

This chemically pure cream of tartar is exclusively employed in the manufacture of the Royal Baking Powder, so that its absolute freedom from lime and all other extraneous substances is gnaranteed.

Professor McMurtrie, late chemist in chief to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., after analyzing samples of the various baking powders of the market, testified to the absolute purity of the Royal Baking Powder as follows:

"All chemical tests to which I have submitted it have proved the Royal Baking Powder perfectly healthful, of uniform, excellent quality, and free from every deleterious
